

Wanted Volunteers to monitor the Scottish elections

We are looking for volunteers to help with a research project, designed to study and improve the quality of democracy in Scotland. It is based on a successful project we completed in the 2005 General Election.

This is not a large commitment - it should take no more than two or three hours, over the course of a month.

Tasks involved:

- collect election leaflets that come through your door
- keep a record of telephone calls and doorstep visits from political parties
- complete a short survey about your experience of election day

It is not necessary to be knowledgeable about politics or the electoral process. We are looking for as many volunteers, from as many constituencies, as possible so please pass this advert on to your family and friends.

If you would like to be involved please contact

Emily Robinson
Research and Publications Officer
Unlock Democracy
0845 4507209
emily.robinson@unlockdemocracy.org.uk

This research is supported by the Electoral Commission in Scotland.